SMANA overview

The Social Marketing Association of North America (SMANA) started in June 2016 to help connect practitioners, academics, and students; build a strong community of practice and disseminate best practices; provide assurance that our efforts are scientifically rigorous; facilitate opportunities for organizations to take advantage of our member's expertise and advocate for the advancement and use of social marketing to impact social change.

SMANA has over 600 members across the United States, Mexico, Canada, the Caribbean, and Central America.
